1. Прочитайте текст и переведите его с английского языка на русский язык.
Текст задания:

Communication is one of the most important tools in business, necessary for success and advancement. It is not a secret that to be hired and to have a promotion, to be successful and eventually advanced in business, one should be an effective communicator – verbally, non-verbally, and digitally – and be able to integrate communication types in different settings.

Every day businessmen interact verbally with a variety of people – equals, subordinates, supervisors, men and women alike. Verbal communication in business often involves expressing opinions, emotions, giving orders and winning over clients. When doing any of these things, it’s important to be level headed, ask questions and back up any opinions you give with hard evidence. A good business verbal communicator is delicate but confident.

For example, you wouldn’t say, “Our economic climate has gone right down the drain in the past three years”, without backing up the statement with facts, figures and sources. In addition, unless it’s essential to winning over the client, controversial opinions like this should be left out of the work-place. Your personal opinions, if unrelated to daily operations of the business, might isolate your clients and offend people around you. You should always back up any statement made in a business setting, avoiding controversy but exuding confidence.

In addition, keep a steady, positive tone of voice; ask lots of questions during meetings; have a list of questions written out before; answer the phone confidently and professionally; and when telling to do something, ask politely and tactfully.
2. Прочитайте текст и переведите его с английского языка на русский язык.
Текст задания:

Forms of verbal communication in business include conference calls, video conferences, staff meetings, presentations and daily interactions in the workplace. During personal interactions, verbal communication is used alongside nonverbal communication – a priceless pairing!

According to the data of scientific research, nonverbal communication or body language makes up 93 per cent of our daily communication in the workplace. Everything works to create your physical image. Certain elements are unchangeable, such as age, gender and ethnicity, so it’s important to pay extra attention to the elements you can control.

Build a professional image. Wear appropriate and aesthetically pleasing clothes to work, maintain a business-appropriate haircut, shave your face and do not wear revealing clothing. All of these elements come together to form your image, so it’s important to get all of them right in the business world.

	Make eye contact when talking or listening to someone. Fiddling with your phone, computer or documents is offensive to many people. Pay attention to your posture. If sitting down, do not slouch in your chair. Lean forward attentively. When standing up, keep an approachable posture – don't slouch, keep an overall inviting visage. From your clothes and hair to your posture and attentiveness – can make or break your business image, rendering you approachable or unapproachable.
3.	Прочитайте и переведите текст с английского языка на русский язык. Текст задания: High qualification and a sufficient level of competence of health professionals are the most important factors designed to improve the quality of medical care. Modern healthcare requires competent specialists who possess the necessary knowledge, skills and abilities and who are able to substantiate their actions and decisions from the standpoint of evidence-based medicine. Only constant, continuous professional development of a health professional provides the basis for high efficiency of his/ her daily work. In contrast to developed countries where health workers are required to have their knowledge certified annually and use modern guidance in the workplace daily, Russian doctors have a refresher course every 5 years, and often lack access to modern sources of information in the workplace. However, about 15% of doctors do not take even these courses within the time frame. The situation is compounded by the fact that refresher training often has a formal nature and contents of educational programs do not meet the needs of practical health care.

Why are the passengers to arrive at the airport beforehand? 3. What is the difference between business and economy classes of travel? 4. What are the weight limitations in business and economy classes? 5. What does the passenger receive after registering his air ticket? 6. Where must he show his boarding pass? 7. Who helps the passengers on board the plane? 8. What does the passenger fill in while still on board the plane? 9. What are the formalities to be completed after the passenger has disembarked? 10. 10. What will the Customs inspector do after you are through with all customs formalities? Airport formalities According to the international standards passengers are to arrive at the airport two hours before departure time on international flights and one hour on domestic flights. The reason is that passengers should have enough time to complete all necessary airport formalities. At the airport, passengers should check the time of the flight to make sure that it is not delayed, cancelled, or altered. This information is available on the flight information display or at the inquiry office. Passengers are to fill in customs declarations in one of international languages or in the language of the country, they depart from. They go to the Customs for an examination of their luggage. In some cases, the Customs officer may ask you to open your bags and suitcases for inspection. This is one in order to prevent smuggling. After you are through with all Customs formalities, the Customs officer puts a stamp on your Customs declaration, or on each piece of luggage, or chalks it off. The particular procedure depends on the country of departure. Then passengers proceed to the check-in area. There they are to register their tickets, to weigh in and to check-in their luggage.

	Most airlines have at least two classes of travel: first or business class and economy or tourist class. Business class is more expensive, while economy class is cheaper. Each passenger above two years of age has a free luggage allowance. As a rule, this limit is 20 kg for economy class passengers and 30 kg for business class passengers. Excess luggage must be paid for. Each passenger is given a boarding pass with his or her seat number. Passengers are asked if they want to sit by the window, and in the smoking or nonsmoking area. A boarding pass is to be shown at the departure gate and to the host when boarding the plane. Finally, passengers proceed to the passport control area. Passport control offices will check your passport and visa and put a stamp on them. Customs, checking-in and passport formalities are more or less the same in all countries. When the formalities of registering yourself and weighing your baggage are over, you get up the gangway and board the plane. If you are travelling for the first time, the flight attendant will show you how to strap your belt, how to adjust your seat and so on. If you feel hungry, you will be provided with an excellent lunch. While still on board the plane the passenger is given an arrival card to fill in, he fills in (in block letters) his name in full, country of residence, permanent address, purpose and length of visit, and address in the country he is visiting. After the passenger has disembarked, officials will examine his passport and visa (to see if they are in order). When these formalities have been completed, the passenger goes to the Customs for an examination of his luggage. The passenger is required to fill in a customs declaration form. He must list all dutiable articles. (Personal belongings may be brought in duty-free.) The Customs inspector may ask you to open your bags for inspection. After you are through with all customs formalities, he will put a stamp on each piece of luggage.

What have you learned about the history of Oxford? A visit to Oxford. On the eve of their departure to Moscow the participants had some free time and Mr. Hill proposed they should make a trip to Oxford. Oxford, first and foremost, is known for its University. The University began itself in the middle of the 12th century, and by 1300 there were already 1,500 students. At this time, Oxford was a wealthy town, but by the middle of the 14th century, it was poorer, because of a decline in trade and because of the terrible plague, which killed many people in England. Relations between the students and the townspeople were very unfriendly, and there was often fighting in the streets. On the 10th February 1355, the Festival of St. Scholastica, a battle began which lasted two days. Sixty-two students were killed. The townspeople were punished for this in two ways: they had to walk through the town to attend a special service on every St Scholastica's day until 1825. Worse than this, the University was given control of the town for nearly 600 years. Nowadays there are about 12,000 students in Oxford, and the University and the town live quietly side by side.

	When the coach came to Oxford the participants bought some colourful books on Oxford, maps and some souvenirs. Then they went sightseeing and stopped near Trinity College.

	A: Amazing! So, do you know many people here? B: No, not really. It's the first time I've been to such a conference. A: Me too. So, what is your hotel like? B: Pretty comfortable. Nothing special, but it's ok, I suppose. A: You are at the Holiday Inn, aren't you? Last year they held this conference in Mexico. The Hilton Cancun Fabulous Hotel, they say. B: Cancun! A bit warmer than here, I think. A: Yes, I went there on holiday once. A beautiful place! Can I get you anything from the buffet? B: Oh, that's all right. I'll come with you. I'd like some more of that caviar before it all goes.
18.	Прочитайте текст и дайте свое определение “легкой светской беседы” и объясните ее цель. Текст задания: Small talk is light and casual conversation that avoids obscure subjects, arguments, or emotionally charged issues. If you are like many shy people, you might think small talk is a waste of time, but nothing could be further from the truth! Making small talk is an easy way to get to know someone, create a positive first impression, and gain self-confidence. Discussing general-interest subjects such as movies, music, theater, sports, books, food, travel and such demonstrates to others that you are approachable and friendly. When you offer a few lighthearted comments or ask and answer questions, you send the message that you are ready, willing and able to communicate. This is especially critical for other shy people who look for a “green light” or extra encouragement before they even consider participating in a conversation. When you make casual conversation, other people will conclude that you are a person with whom they can easily converse.
19.	Прочитайте текст и дайте свое определение "эффективной коммуникации" и объясните ее цель. Текст задания: Effective communication involves the exchange of information, ideas, thoughts, and feelings between individuals or groups in a clear, concise, and understandable manner. It encompasses both verbal and non-verbal communication channels, such as spoken words, body language, gestures, and facial expressions. Effective communication requires active listening, empathy, and feedback to ensure that messages are accurately received and understood by all parties involved. It fosters mutual understanding, trust, and respect among individuals, leading to better relationships and outcomes in both personal and professional settings. Additionally, effective communication helps to minimize misunderstandings, conflicts, and errors, thereby enhancing productivity, collaboration, and decision-making. Overall, mastering the skills of effective communication is crucial for building strong connections, resolving conflicts, and achieving success in various aspects of life.

Текст задания: How to prepare for your first international business trip Each airline has its own rules about the size and weight of hand luggage and checked baggage. It is important not to take bags that exceed these limits because you will pay a large fee for oversize luggage at the airport. Determine how much luggage to take. Try to pack as lightly as you can. Avoid locking your luggage. Security checks all luggage, and they ask that it not be locked so that they can easily access it.

Check in for your flight up to 24 hours before departure. Airlines now allow travelers to check in for their flights and secure their seats online up to 24 hours in advance. You can do this via airline apps on smartphones or on their websites. Checking in online ahead of time also saves you time in getting to the airport, because you can head straight to security and skip the check-in lines upon arrival.

Print or secure your boarding pass ahead of time. If you check in early, you can print or access your boarding pass through your airline's mobile app. Be sure to print it out or take a screenshot of it on your smartphone, in case you have no service in the airport to access the mobile app.

If you check in at the airport, then airline agents will provide you with your boarding pass at that time.

Arrive at the airport with plenty of time to spare. Be aware of what time your flight is supposed to depart and what time boarding is supposed to begin. Plan to be at the airport with enough time to get through security and make it to your gate on time.

Have all items needed for the security checkpoint easily accessible. You will need your boarding pass and a form of identification, and when you reach the screening checkpoint, you will need to have certain items easily accessible to put through screening. Keep them at the top of your carry-on so that you do not have to dig through it to find them.

Find your gate and wait for boarding to start. Once you are through security, use the signs in the airport to help you find your gate. It is best to go straight there in order to avoid missing your flight and to make sure that you know where it is.

After you have found your gate, you can go to the restroom, get something to eat, or shop, if you have time.

If you are worried about turbulence, then try to get a seat next to the wing, as you will not feel the turbulence as much. Another tip is to look at the staff on the plane. If they are not scared, you should not be.

Once you are on your plane, you will be asked to power off your electronic devices or put them in Airplane Mode. Be sure to do this to avoid interference with airline signals. Remember that you cannot access any apps that require cellular data or Wi-Fi when your smartphone or other device is in Airplane Mode.

Many airlines now offer Wi-Fi on flights, but it is usually for a fee. Determine whether it is worth the money to access Wi-Fi on the flight. For example, if you are taking a business trip and have work to do while you travel, it will likely be worthwhile. If your trip is for pleasure, though, and you have no real need for using Wi-Fi other than entertainment, it might not be worth the price.

It is not true that you cannot take food on an airplane. If you do not purchase meals onboard, you can get hungry during a flight. Take some snacks or sandwiches with you, just be sure they do not smell too strongly and do not leave crumbs around. There are restrictions on drinks. To avoid them, buy your drinks in the departure lounge after going through the security check.

Be sure to gather your belongings from the plain before claiming your baggage. You cannot go back into a restricted area, without clearing security again.
